

WILL SPEND DAY AT MODEL FARM

Interesting Feature of Farmers' Institute Which Meets in Petersburg.

ARRESTED FOR ROBBERY

American League Scout Looks Over Roanoke Ball Players.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, 109 North Sycamore Street, Petersburg, Va., August 6.

Mayor William M. Jones, on account of illness, will not be able to welcome the State Farmers' Institute to this city next Tuesday, and this pleasant duty will fall to President T. F. Heath, of the Chamber of Commerce. Governor William B. Hodges, Jr., will deliver the welcoming address on behalf of the State, from all sections of which farmers will be present.

The address of President Westmoreland Davis, of Leesburg, will review the work of the institute and embody the report of the legislative committee. A great variety of subjects will be discussed, but all of them of needful and practical character. These discussions will be along educational lines, having as their object the improvement of the system of farming and how to make it profitable. The growing of hay and the raising of Middle and Southside Virginia and the proper maintaining of live stock will receive special attention. The peanut, tobacco and potato crops will be the subjects of talks by men of experience in their culture. "How to Keep Young Men on the Farm," "How to Make the Lives of Farmers' Wives Easier and More Enjoyable," "Agricultural Teaching in the Public Schools," "Lessons in Domestic Economy," etc., are topics on the program for consideration, and representatives of the Boys' Corn Club will tell their experiences.

The last day of the institute will be spent on the model farm of the Norfolk and Western Railway Company at Ivor, where a welcome will be extended by President Johnson. Here the farmers will be given practical demonstrations of the use of land of stumps and trees with power and dynamite, the use of gasoline engines for plowing and cultivating land, etc.

A Farmer's Fatal Fall.
P. H. Clark, a well known farmer of Prince George county, living about 11 miles from Petersburg, was accidentally killed yesterday afternoon on his farm. He was engaged at the time in loading a wagon with hay, when a sudden start of the horses caused him to lose his balance and fall to the ground. He fell on his head and his neck was broken, causing death in a short while.

Mr. Clark was upwards of seventy years old, and leaves a family. He was well known in the county and in this city, and was much respected.

Boys' Arrest for Robbery.
One of the saddest features of the Police Court is the frequent presence of small boys charged with house-breaking and robbery. During the past week or so this spectacle has often been witnessed.

This morning the police arrested four boys, ranging in age from nine to twelve years, charged with breaking into the store of J. A. Pulley, on Halifax street, yesterday and robbing the money drawer of $20. One of the boys, David Winn, seems to have been the leader of this gang. He confessed to breaking into the store, robbing the money drawer and then dividing with his companions. Only about $3 was recovered from them. The balance they spent in purchases of various kinds—an air rifle, baseball and in riding all around the city on the street cars. They are held for trial.

After Baseball Players.
S. W. Kennedy, scout for the American League, spent yesterday in Petersburg, the object of his visit, as rumored, being for the purchase of three players of the Roanoke club, which has been playing here for three days. The men sought after, according to report, are Doane, pitcher; Fisher, catcher and Spratt, third baseman. The truth of the rumor could not be verified, as Manager Shaughnessy, of the Roanoke team, had nothing to say, and would neither confirm nor deny.

Personal and Otherwise.
Miss Florence L. Barnes, of Greenville county, and Milton P. Michaels, of this city, were married on Thursday, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. J. O. Babcock at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Zeno T. Miller, near Jarratt's Station.

It is expected that the fine brick high school building, now being erected at Disputanta, in Prince George county, will be ready for occupancy at the opening of the next school session.

Trains were delayed while the work was being done.

Last evening while some young men were hunting frogs down in the vicinity of the old shipyard, east of the city, they found a human skull and some bones. The skull had what looked like a bullet hole through it. The remains may be those of a soldier shot during the war.

The lot at the corner of Sycamore and Bollingbrook Streets, on which stands the property known as the library building, has been transferred by deed to the Virginia Railway and Power Company for the consideration of $20,000. The company is to improve and occupy the building.

Miss Nannie Bishop Aldridge, who was operated on for appendicitis at the hospital several days ago, has so far recovered as to return to her home.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Fredericksburg, Va., August 6.—Charles Dobson, a lumber inspector, of Stafford county, was drowned last evening at the mouth of Chappawamsic Creek, where it empties into the Potomac River near Quantico. He was with several men in a boat, and got out and waded some distance from the shore to take a swim. The water was shallow, and he went quite a distance out. He was warned by the others, but continued until he was several hundred yards from shore. He then suddenly got into deep water, and being a poor swimmer, soon became exhausted, and sank before any of the men could reach him. He was thirty-three years old, and is survived by his wife and two children. The body has not been recovered.

..In Spite..

of the fact of the enormous increase in the number of furniture stores and a great many people hollering hard times we are doing more business to-day than ever. Why? Because 30 years experience has taught us that a piece of furniture or a drugget is not necessarily just so much wood and glass or so much wool, jute or cotton to be sold for the lowest possible price. Beauty, comfort and quality are far more important! If you don't think so just notice what infinite care the ladies use in selecting their gowns and hats! They know, and that's the reason we enjoy so much of their patronage. Our store this fall will not only be the prettiest in Richmond but in the United States. To make room for the new fall goods now daily arriving we've put on our
